

LEARNING WEBINARS

Transitioning to Midwifery Models of Care

20 March 2025, 14:00-15:15 CET

Nursing and Midwifery Global Community of Practice (NMGCoP)

---

Enhancing the role of midwives is essential to saving lives and improving the quality of maternity and newborn care worldwide. Evidence shows that midwifery models of care improve maternal and newborn outcomes, reduce unnecessary medical interventions, and ensure respectful, person-centered care.

Join us for this insightful webinar to explore key findings from the WHO Global Position Paper on Transitioning to Midwifery Models of Care and discuss strategies for effective implementation. Engage with policymakers, midwifery professionals, healthcare leaders, and communities to drive global collaboration and action.

Key Objectives:

- Share insights from the WHO Global Position Paper on Midwifery Models of Care.
- Highlight evidence-based strategies for successful implementation.
- Showcase country progress and impact.
- Foster advocacy, global collaboration and action for midwifery models of care.

Register via the online platform

nursingandmidwiferyglobal.org

In partnership with

20th March 2025
14.00 -15.15 hrs (CET)

Virtual - online

