Enzo Maria Le Fevre Cervini

Senior Expert on International Relations at the Agency for Digital Italy
Presidency of the Council of Ministers

Enzo Maria Le Fevre, Ph.D., is a Senior Expert on International Relations at the Agency for Digital Italy - Presidency of the Council of Ministers (AGID). He works in the international projection of the Agency's activities, particularly of those focusing on digital governance and Artificial Intelligence. Specifically, he closely collaborates with the OECD as the Agency's delegate in the expert and thematic groups where AGID is involved. He is coordinating the Thematic Group on Emerging Technologies (AI & Blockchain) of the OECD Working Party of Senior Digital Government Officials (E-Leaders).

In 2018, Enzo Maria Le Fevre was among the drafters of the Italian White Paper on the use of Artificial Intelligence at the service of the citizens. Last December he has been appointed member of the United Nations Expert Group on the "Role of public institutions on the transformative impact of new technologies" promoted by the Department of Economic and Social Affairs - Division for Public Institutions & Digital Government (DPIDG). He is also Adjunct Professor of Digital Governance at the Università degli Studi della Tuscia and of International Law and Diplomacy at LUISS University in Rome. In 2018, he was appointed Researcher Coordinator on international practices of digital governance at the Laboratory on Innovation and Artificial Intelligence of the University of Buenos Aires.

Since 2002, Enzo Maria Le Fevre has covered numerous leading positions in governmental and non-governmental institutions. Currently board member of Adriano Olivetti Foundation and a fellow at the European Center for International Affairs, he also served as research associate at the Center for International Conflict Resolution of Columbia University. Enzo Maria Le Fevre holds a Ph.D. in international and European studies with a focus on international law and theory of the state, an MA in International Relations (with honours), and a postgraduate specialization in International Law and Public Law in the fishery sector. He recently published on "The application of the SDGs in the fisheries sector through the support of emerging technologies".
