

SIDS Summit for Health

For a healthy and resilient future in
Small Island Developing States

WHO is hosting the first global gathering of leaders focusing exclusively on health in the SIDS

Monday, 28 June and Tuesday, 29 June 2021

The SIDS Summit for Health will bring together SIDS heads of states, ministers of health and others to discuss the urgent health challenges and needs they face. It will help amplify SIDS voices, promote collaborative action and strengthen health and development partnerships and financing.
