

Advisory Group on Lifelong Learning in Health

Current members

Ms. Suhaila Aboud

Suhaila is a Sexual and Reproductive Health (SRH) professional with 17 years of experience as a front-line health worker providing SRH services to women and girls, including caring for survivors of sexual violence, intimate partner violence. She works to promote institutional capacity development in integrated SRH and GBV thematic areas. She holds a Master of Science in Health Management, an advanced Postgraduate Diploma in Global Reproductive Health, a Bachelor of Psychology in Counselling, and a Diploma in Clinical Medicine and Surgery. Suhaila is currently the Clinical Management Rape and Mental Health and Psychosocial Support Specialist in the Global Emergency Response Team at the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA).

Professor Carlos Alberto Pereira De Oliveira

Professor at the State University of Rio de Janeiro (UERJ) since 1982, currently serving as the Director of the Multidisciplinary Institute for Human Development with Technologies. Professor Alberto Pereira De Oliveira is also visiting Professor in the Postgraduate Program in Family Health at the Federal University of Mato Grosso do Sul (UFMS) and has served as a Temporary External Advisor to the WHO for learning and capacity building. He is a Reviewing Editor for the Education and Promotion in Public Health specialty section of Frontiers in Public Health and Frontiers in Education (since 2023) and a member of the Editorial Board of R-Bits Journal at UFRN (since 2016).

Mr. Daniel Baril

Daniel Baril is Executive Director of the Institute for the Cooperation in Adult Education, a Canadian non-governmental research center. A specialist in the right to adult education and the policies and programs that implement it, Daniel Baril has been active in adult education for 25 years. Mr. Baril sits on several bodies of adult education organizations in Quebec, Canada and internationally, including the board of Faculty of Continuing Education of the University of Montreal, the board of directors of Qualification Quebec and the board of directors of the UNESCO Institute for Lifelong Learning (UIL), of which he is president.

Professor Tina Brock

Professor Tina Brock is a pharmacist and the Director of the Collaborative Practice Centre in the University of Melbourne's Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry, and Health Sciences. Tina has been part of the educational leadership teams at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, University College London, University of California San Francisco, Monash University, and the University of Colorado. She has also worked across all six World Health Organization (WHO) regions via the nongovernmental organisation, Management Sciences for Health.

Professor Pierre-Géraud Claret

Professor Pierre-Géraud Claret, a medical doctor by training, is currently Medical Director of bioMérieux and also works in the Emergency Department of the University Hospital of Lyon, France. As Professor of Emergency Medicine with a PhD in Biostatistics, Pierre-Géraud has worked at the Ottawa Civic Hospital, Canada, and was head of Emergency and Intensive Care at the University Hospital of Nîmes, France. Former chairman of the guidelines committee of the French Society of Emergency Medicine (SFMU) and editor of the French Annals of Emergency Medicine, Pierre-Géraud is committed to improving clinical practice through education and knowledge sharing.

Professor Salman Guraya

Professor Salman Guraya is currently serving as Vice Dean of the College of Medicine and Head of Surgery Unit at University of Sharjah UAE. He is a qualified medical educator, researcher, and minimally invasive surgical oncologist. Pro. Guraya is a senior editorial board member of BMC Medical Education, Editor of Frontiers in Surgical Oncology, and Advances in Biomedical and Health Journals. Prof. Guraya's main areas of research include surgical oncology, colorectal surgery, transanal and transaoral scar-less surgery, medical professionalism, interprofessional collaboration, simulation in healthcare, and academic leadership.

Professor Hamat Ibrahim

Professor IBRAHIM Hamat obtained a doctorate in medicine at the University of N'Djamena (Chad) and a diploma of special studies in Nephrology at the Cheikh Anta Diop University in Dakar. He complemented these studies at the University of Reims and the University of Strasbourg (France), where he respectively received an Attestation of Specialized Studies in Nephrology and a Diploma in Extrarenal Purification Techniques. He has been a teacher-researcher at the Faculty of Medicine in N'Djamena since 2011, has supervised over twenty medical theses, and is the author and co-author of several published articles on nephrology in Chad. He is currently General Director of the Centre Hospitalier et Universitaire "la Référence Nationale", the largest and oldest hospital in Chad.

Professor Nobuaki Inoue

Professor Inoue is a physician specializing in pediatrics and pediatric emergency medicine who has trained and worked in Japan, the U.S., and Australia. He is also a global health expert who has been involved in designing systems to train healthcare professionals in Mongolia and Kingdom of Bhutan. Most recently, he was involved in research activities at a WHO collaboration center in Japan on effective continuing education components for training healthcare professionals.

Professor Asha Kanwar

Professor Kanwar is currently Officer of the Commonwealth of Learning (COL). Prior to joining COL, she was a senior consultant in open and distance learning at UNESCO's Regional Office for Education in Africa (BREDIA). She has also served as Pro-Vice Chancellor at the Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) in New Delhi, India. She was a Fulbright Fellow for post-doctoral research at Iowa State University in the US, where she was later invited to teach. Currently, she serves on the boards of several organizations, including as Chair of the Governing Board of the UNESCO Institute for Information Technologies in Education (IITE). Professor Kanwar has been conferred nine honorary doctorates from Universities in Asia, Africa, Europe and North America. Currently she is a Chair Professor at Beijing Normal University in china.

Dr Penny Kechagioglou

Dr Penny Kechagioglou is Chief Clinical Information Officer, deputy Chief Medical Officer and consultant clinical oncologist at University Hospitals Coventry and Warwickshire UK. Also, the Icon UK chief clinical strategy officer, the Vice Chair of the UK Digital Health Networks CCIO Advisory Panel, executive committee member of the UK Digital Health and Care network, member of the UK Antidoping Innovation Commission and Ambassador of the Society for Integrative Oncology in Greece and Cyprus. Dr Kechagioglou completed a DBA at Warwick Business School on leadership and innovation, and is a postgraduate and undergraduate tutor at Warwick University, as well as an author, mentor and professional health coach.

Dr Marwa Schumann

Dr Marwa Schumann is a medical doctor who holds a Bachelor's degree in Medicine and Surgery from the Alexandria Faculty of Medicine, Alexandria University, a joint Master of Health Professions Education from Maastricht University in the Netherlands and Suez Canal University in Egypt, and a Master of Medical Education from the University of Dundee in Scotland, UK. In 2017, she obtained the Master of International Education Management, a joint degree from the Ludwigsburg University of Education in Germany and Helwan University in Egypt. She received her doctorate from the Charité Universitätsmedizin Berlin in Germany. She is an Associate Fellow of the Association of Medical Education in Europe (AMEE) and a member of its Faculty Development committee. She has been working as the team lead of faculty development at the Dieter Scheffner center for Medical Education, Charité Universitätsmedizin Berlin and a lecturer of Medical Education at Alexandria University since 2022.